fruit growers because of the development in recent years of new insecticides.
The Illinois peach harvest, coming the first two to three weeks in August, follows the South Carolina crop which was estimated at 6½ million bushels Feb. 1, but which suffered an 80 per cent cut because of frost damage.
Weather may yet affect the quality of the Illinois crop but constant emphasis on quality over the past few years among Illinois growers should make Illinois peaches this year the best ever marketed, according to R. S. McBride, manager of Illinois Fruit Growers' Exchange.
Flood losses in the U. S. have averaged over $110 million annually in recent years.
Before the war 26 to 30 percent of American imports came from Europe, 29 to 30 percent from Asia and about 15 percent from Canada.

LARGER PEACH CROP FOR 1949
An Illinois peach crop 43 per cent higher than last year has been predicted. Peach trees came through last winter in excellent condition and the bloom this spring was as heavy as any ever seen. Frost damage was slight so volume will be general throughout the southern Illinois region. Insects are less of a menace among

CHRIS MANHEIM DIES

Chris Manheim, 75, of New Lenox, died Monday afternoon at one o'clock at his home following a lingering illness. He has been bedridden since last August. Mr. Manheim moved to New Lenox in 1941 from Chicago where he was born and raised.

He is survived by his wife Daisy,
five sons, Chris Jr., of Melrose Park, Casper, Robert and Walter of New Lenox; Vernon of Franklin Park, one daughter, Mrs. Ruth Gilgen of New Lenox; and eleven grandchildren. Funeral services were held Thursday morning in the St. Cyperin church in Elmwood Park with burial in St. Joseph's cemetery there.

Annual Methodist Conference in Waukegan June 22-26

Preparations are being completed for the 110th annual session of the Methodist Rock River conference which will be held in Waukegan this year June 22-26.

Dr. Weldon E. Bradburn, program chairman and District Superintendent in the District where the conference will be held, stated today that every effort is being made to schedule inspiring lectures and addresses for the ministers, lay delegates, and for the general public.

The Rock River Conference is one of the largest of the over 100 Conferences in the United States. It includes 336 churches and represents 155,637 Methodists in Northern Illinois.

Bishop J. Ralph Magee, Bishop of the Chicago Area, will preside at all the sessions. After the first morning, which will include a welcome, greetings, Communion and a memorial service for the members of the Conference who have passed on, the mornings and part of the afternoons will be devoted to the important business of the Conference.

Dr. Bradburn announced that the afternoon lectures will be given by Dr. Carence Tucker Craig, of the Divinity School of Yale university, who will speak on the general theme, "Vital Aspects of Our Faith."

Wednesday evening, June 22, Bishop W. Earl Ledden, Resident Bishop of the Syracuse Area of the Methodist church will speak. At the invitation of the Council of Bishops he toured Africa in 1948. A special feature of that night will be the presentation of two anthems by a choir of more than 200 voices gathered from the Methodist churches in the northern part of the Chicago northern district.

Thursday the women's sessions will be held in the high school, as will most of the evening meetings. The featured speaker for the women will be Mrs. Charles W. Meed, of Omaha, Neb.

Thursday evening the guest speaker will be Dr. Bernard C. Clausen, pastor of the Euclid Avenue Baptist church of Cleveland, Ohio, who will speak on the subject, "How to Succeed in Failing." He has specialized in campus religion and in contacts with young people, and is now pioneering in religious television. The Waukegan community chorus will sing that night.

Laymen's day will be observed Friday. Chaplain James V. Claypool, author of the best seller, "God On The Battle Wagon," will be the speaker at the banquet Friday night at Zion.

Friday the evening address for the public will be given by Dr. Clark Kuebler, President of Ripon college, Ripon, Wis. Dr. Kuebler is one of the outstanding speakers in the country, lecturing before many diversified groups. Much of his experience has grown out of his nine European trips. Bruce Foote noted radio and concert artist, will be the featured soloist on the program.

The Sunday services will follow the usual procedure, with Bishop J. Ralph Magee preaching in the morning, and in the afternoon there will be the ordination service and the reading of appointments.

Dr. Thomas Pender will be the host pastor. Some assistance is being given by other churches in Waukegan in the serving of meals, and the Methodist churches of nearby towns are helping with the housing. This is the first time that the Conference has been held in the far northeastern part of the Rock River conference since 1853.

By Charles L. Egenroad

Washington, D. C.—The real cause for the Congressional bottleneck which is holding up Administration measures is President Truman's determination to spend more than the Nation's 1950 fiscal economy can possibly stand.

His insistence has swung both Democrats and Republicans into a consolidation that is gaining strength daily to save the nation from a higher tax bill with which to pay the Truman campaign promises.

Proof that President Truman is ignoring the advice of his own department experts by demanding increases in taxes to foot the bills for more spending is dramatized in a recent report of the Department of Commerce. This official report points out that a drop of major proportions can be expected in the national income in the fiscal year of 1950.

It also indicates that early consideration of the trend in business this year will find wages and salaries alone falling by 13 billion dollars in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1950.

These are the sources of Government tax revenue.

Farm Income Due for Severe Drop
The Department of Commerce report predicts—based on what has happened in only a few months—that dividends will drop one billion; interest and rents will drop one billion; farm income will drop at least three billions.

Coupled with the loss in wages and salaries it adds up to a loss of at least 18 billion dollars—seven per cent of the national income for the past year. When it is remembered that seven per cent of the revenue collected by the Government is about three billion dollars, we can all see what the loss in taxes will be.

President Truman had access to those figures long before the public. Top flight Capitol Hill economists are saying today that it was that report which prompted him to ask for a tax increase.

As if that slight-of-hand trick by the president wasn't enough, he completely ignored another report to which he had access far in advance of its publication.

Truman Refuses to Face Facts
This was the official views of the Labor Department which pointed out that the Labor Department Chieftains were aware as long ago as last September, two months before the election and during the height of the President's promising days, that a "readjustment" period had set in. Furthermore the Labor Department felt in 1947 such a readjustment period was in the offing.

With all this official information on his desk, nevertheless, the President went boldly forward with plans to spend more and more, even to the point of being brazen enough to submit to Congress his estimates of revenue to be available that were far greater than that collected in our years of greatest prosperity.

Is it any wonder that Democrats on all sides in Congress have joined with Republicans in hesitating to act on further irresponsible spending sprees?

Population per square mile of arable land is 68 in Russia, 102 in the United States, 500 in Italy, 587 in Germany and 2,430 in Japan.
